

WELLINGTON PARK

A WILDERNESS PARK,
YET SO CLOSE TO
HOBART, WITH A
VARIETY OF ROUTES
TO CATER FOR ALL
ABILITIES AND CONDITIONS

Wellington Park is Tasmania's second largest State Reserve at 18 000 hectares and includes the iconic Mt Wellington (1270m) and a diverse array of topographical features from dolerite columns (the Organ Pipes) to block/boulder streams, precipitous gullies and bleak alpine heathland and moors. The Wellington plateau provides spectacular views over Hobart and the Derwent estuary, with vistas extending south to the Tasman Peninsula and Bruny Island, and north up the Derwent Valley.

Many walking tracks are available from which to choose, offering a range of different experiences and showcasing the remarkable variety Tasmania's flora present on the mountain range.

T1 | Well defined and wide tracks on easy to moderate terrain, in slightly modified natural environments. You will require a modest level of fitness. Recommended for beginners.

T2 | Narrower but distinct tracks which can be muddy in some places, in pristine natural environments. Facilities are minimal and you will encounter few other walkers. These moderate tours require a reasonable level of fitness.

T3 | You will experience marked but often-indistinct tracks, in very remote and wild areas. These challenging walks need a high level of fitness and some hiking experience.

T4 | Tracks are often faint or unmarked in remote and craggy natural areas not included in our schedule, however we will guide selected parties on these tours on request
